■ CAMPUSNET (Complete College ERP)

CAMPUSNET, simply is an effort of making internet work for educational institutes. It propels mutual co-operation between the constituents of the institution which ultimately leads to a huge private library, an ocean of knowledge and a single yet powerful platform of interaction.

WHAT CAN CAMPUSNET DO FOR INSTITUTES

A properly planed and effective IT solution

1. Complete organization of data within the school.

IT can help you collect, store and share your data with a great ease and speed within your organization. Manual efforts on the other hand can be very tedious, erroneous, non retrievable and costly. On one side where the management of the data for the current year is a typical task with manual working, a proper solution can make you access the data for even the past students.

Manual work most of the time is Redundant, Incomplete, Improper, Not available when required. Dependency factor is always high in this case. Further handling old files is difficult and unhealthy. Hand written data is sometime not readable.

2. Streamlining the educational process:

The manual way of working gives us total freedom and flexibility ...which results in a less protocol or standardized way of working. An IT solution helps in proper documentation and standardization of education process by setting up protocols for each and every process of schooling. We document and manage much more information than the manual process. Accessing the documented information is again a very easy process.

Advantages

- Smooth handling of admission records and applications is possible with proper software which is a very big issue with manual process.
- Fact based easy access to figures and data helps in making productive management decisions.
- All the reports and communication with education boards can be done fast and error free without much of time and dependency. With manual work it is very much dependent process on the concerned person and care full handling is required.
- Without a proper IT solution the interaction and information exchange with parents is a tedious and time consuming process. We reduce the frequency to cope with it but with a proper solution schools can be very transparent and quick in communicating with parents as there is no extra hard work required.
- Compilation of exam reports and analysis is almost in real time with IT wherein it uses to block almost everything at the time of examinations as the entire education system use to get busy with calculations and report generation.
- In manual processing the exchange of information within various departments of the institution is very difficult and time consuming. For example fine in library should be taken in fee section and the caution money in fee department should reflect in library.

3. Effectively increasing the productivity and efficiency of the office management staff.

Schools experience that the productivity of the same office staff increases after implementation of IT solutions. They can work out things well in time and are free to take care of the other smaller issues in school management. The same office work can be handled by less staff thereby allowing the rest of the man power to be deputed in other productive works.

- In comparison to the manual fee collection less office staff can handle a big volume of fee collection.
- The calculation and various reporting formats are generated in various sections.
- The payroll processing at the end of month takes less time.
- Stock management is more accurate and less time consuming.

Maximum time in manual processing is wasted in retrieving the earlier record and processing. Whereas, the same time can now be utilized efficiently in further information collection.

4. Strengthening relationship with parents by maintaining a proper information system.

Communication and transparency always play a key role in forming a healthy relationship with parents and also add to their satisfaction. Properly working information system helps us making better use of parent teacher meetings as the crucial time of personal interaction is not consumed in just accessing the basic information and setting up the agenda.

Some schools are also using their web sites and portals to keep their parents informed about the latest in the school and facilitating their knowledge sharing with smartly designed tools.

- Parents being busy these days can't pay frequent visit to school but IT can help them be in touch with school for all they want and as frequent as they want from any where in this world.
- Properly and timely informed parents can contribute better in the educational development of the child.
- Schools can also keep parent informed about parenting problems and can guide them without putting much time and efforts.
- Teachers can enhance their interaction with students by using concepts of schooling round the clock around the globe.
- Simple features like news letter broadcasting can keep parents informed about the hard work put in by the school for the overall development of the child.

5. Reducing a lot of communication cost on various communication based processes in the school.

Assuming that a printed communication with parents takes at least Rs. 10 per copy, communication cost can be significantly reduced by gradually upgrading to electronic communication methods like e-mail, news letter broadcasting and SMS.

Institutes invest a lot of money in keeping track and communicating with their alumni. With an efficient online solution this is not just made more effective but reduces the cost involvement significantly.
